

Minutes of the March 14, 2006 Meeting by Susan Davis

The meeting was called to order by President Sherry Arigo at 7:05 PM.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance, Sherry reported on our lunch at Bonefish and our lunch at Skipper's Pier. Thanks to Sherry for Bonefish and Cheri Desarno for Skipper's Pier.

The Minutes of the February meeting were voted on and approved.

The Treasurer's report was made and approved.

Special presentation: Sarah Perkins of Cruise One and the Bel Air Corvette Club made a presentation on their Corvette cruises. Their club has made three cruises and is off to Hawaii this year. Sarah has been a cruise specialist for 14 years and will prepare a proposal for a Corvette Annapolis Cruise next March. She showed an interesting slide show and discussed the numerous cruise options. Look for more information soon.

Visitors: Jim Derrick who owns a 2003 Triple Black Corvette.

Activities and Upcoming Events: Dean discussed the upcoming events.

- March 25 Dinner at Pirates Cove with dessert at Susan and Dave Davis' home following. Leave L&T at 5:15 PM
- April 1 Murder Mystery Dinner (So-So-Sopranos) at Blair Mansion in Silver Spring, MD. $52.95 per person includes beverage, tax and tip. Leave L&T at 6 PM
- April 8 Dinner at Mia Carolina in Glyndon, MD. Leave L&T at 3:30 PM

Governor's report: Steve Johnson directed everyone to ERNCCC.org for information on shows, rallies, autocrosses and other events in the East Region.

Charities Committee: Christine Von Bocker reported that the 4 infusion chairs have been ordered for Anne Arundel Medical Center and that an anonymous donor has funded a fifth chair in Corvette Annapolis' name.

Corvette FYI: Joe Barney presented an interesting show on why a Corvette is a GT, the history of American Le Mans Series Racing and why the ignition switch on a Porsche is on the left of the steering column. Don't know? Ask Joe!

President's Report:

Sherry asked if anyone had ideas on the disposition of the sound system given that a DJ seems to be preferred for shows and events. A lively discussion did not lead to a decision.

Corvette Central has offered to supply goodie bags for our shows in exchange for our mailing list. The membership had no objection.

We need to continue to seek donations for the silent auction at Sport Chevrolet. Everyone one was encouraged to download the donation letter from www.corvetteannapolis.com and bring at least one donation to the May meeting.

The 50/50 drawing was won by Bob Mons. Kevin Hodges won a Corvette print and \Al Gesualdi won a gift bag from the Cruise Specialist Sarah Perkins.

Meeting treats were provided by Steve Johnson.

The meeting adjourned at 8:35 pm
